FACULTY AND CLASSES

In no period of the history of Rossville schools, has the task of administration been so colossal. Board members, working with Mr. Frazee, have faced problems that would baffle the ordinary citizen. It's not only the hiring of personnel, maintenance of buildings, and making of budgets, but that more intangible something that is wrapped up in the educational change evident in our times. Part of their dilemma is voiced by Dr. Conant who says: There is no such thing as a typical American high school. Furthermore, it is impossible to draw a blueprint of an ideal high school ...I am convinced American secondary education can be made satisfactory without any radical change in the basic pattern...Elect a good school board, get the facts about your local situation, and support the efforts of the board to improve the schools.

Charles D. Frazee, Principal, graduated from Carlisle High School and received his B.S. and M.S. from Indiana State Teachers College. Although he isn't teaching, he holds licenses in Math and Physical Sciences.

ADMINISTRATION

Mrs. Crum and Mr. Irick share the responsibility of teaching algebra students.

MATHEMATICS

Cecil Crum, B. S. in Education, Southwest Missouri State Teachers College, is a graduate of Lamar High School in Missouri. She is familiar with Rossville after eighteen years as instructor of Algebra, Plane Geometry, Advanced and College Algebra, Trigonometry, and Solid Geometry. She continued as sponsor of the Sunshine Society and was named co-sponsor of the Seniors.

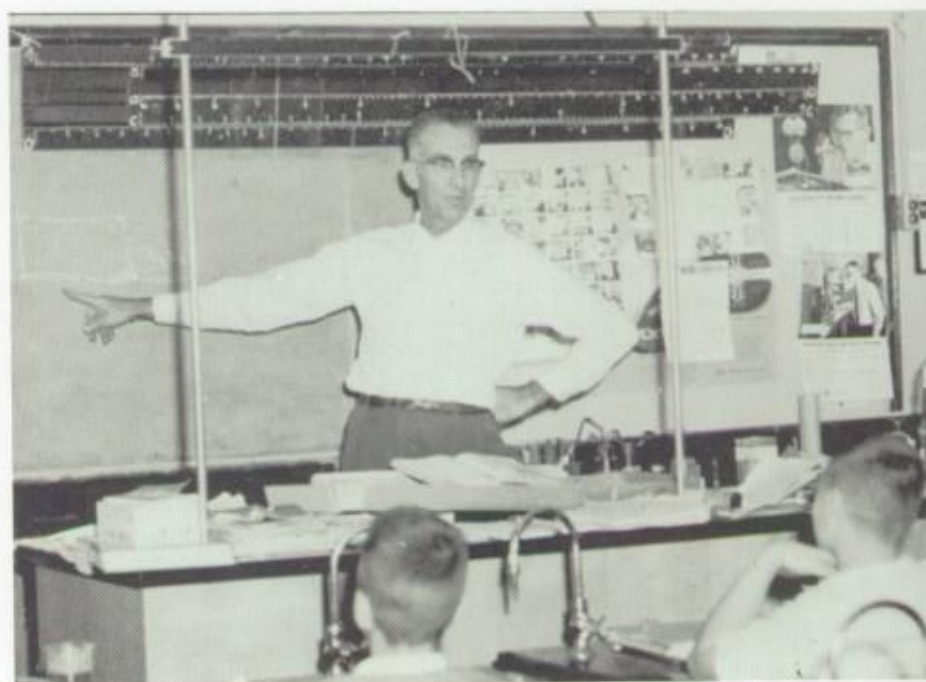

Wilbert R. Irick, A.B., Manchester College, has taught a total of eight years at Rossville. Besides teaching seventh and eighth grade Math, General Math, and Algebra, he finds time to co-sponsor the Sophomores.

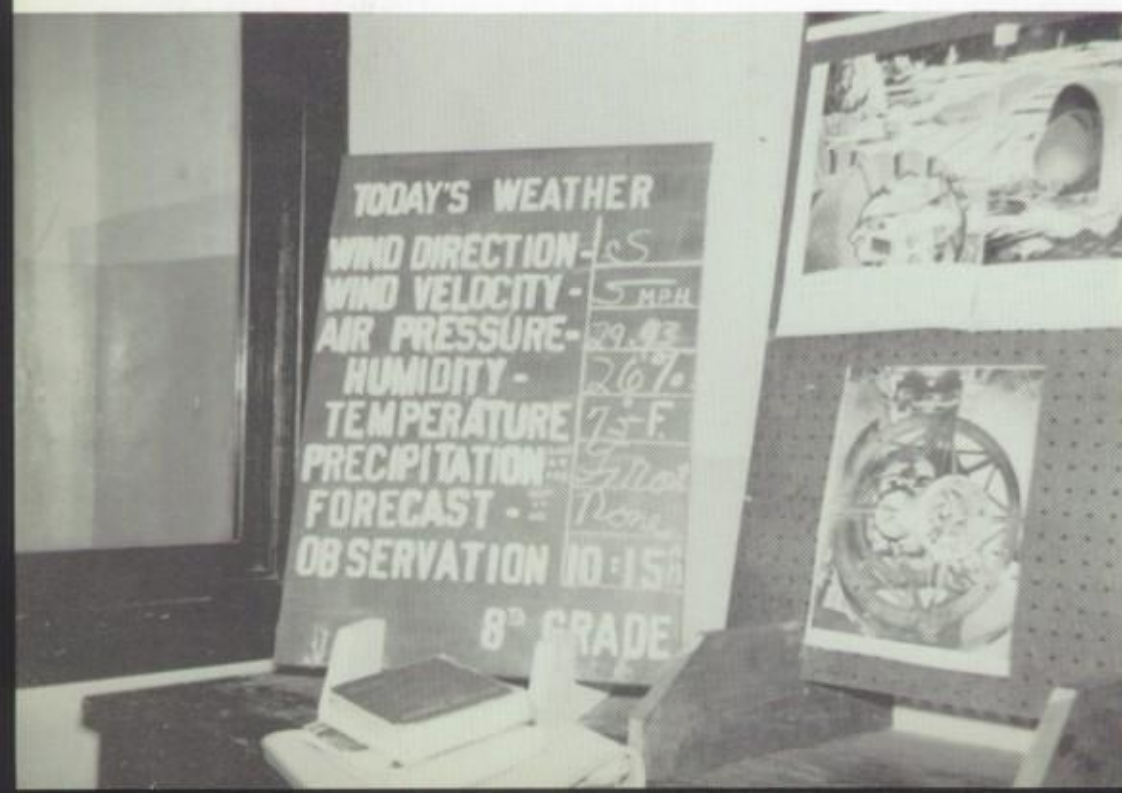

Charles Wolf, a graduate of Francesville High School and Purdue University, holds a B.S. in Agriculture. His first year at Rossville has been a busy one as instructor of Agriculture and Biology and as sponsor of FFA, 4-H Club, and the Senior class.

SCIENCE

F. L. Johnson has attended both Indiana State Teachers College and Purdue University. The holder of an A.B. and an M.A., he teaches Physics, Chemistry, and General Science. As sponsor of the eighth grade and Science Club, he is completing his second year at Rossville.

The eighth grade kept us posted on the daily weather report.

ART

Florence R. Dunk, B.S. in Education, Indiana State Normal, graduated from Winamac High School. She has studied art at St. Francis Art School in Lafayette and has done additional work at DePauw and Purdue. She has taught Art and Music for two years at Rossville.

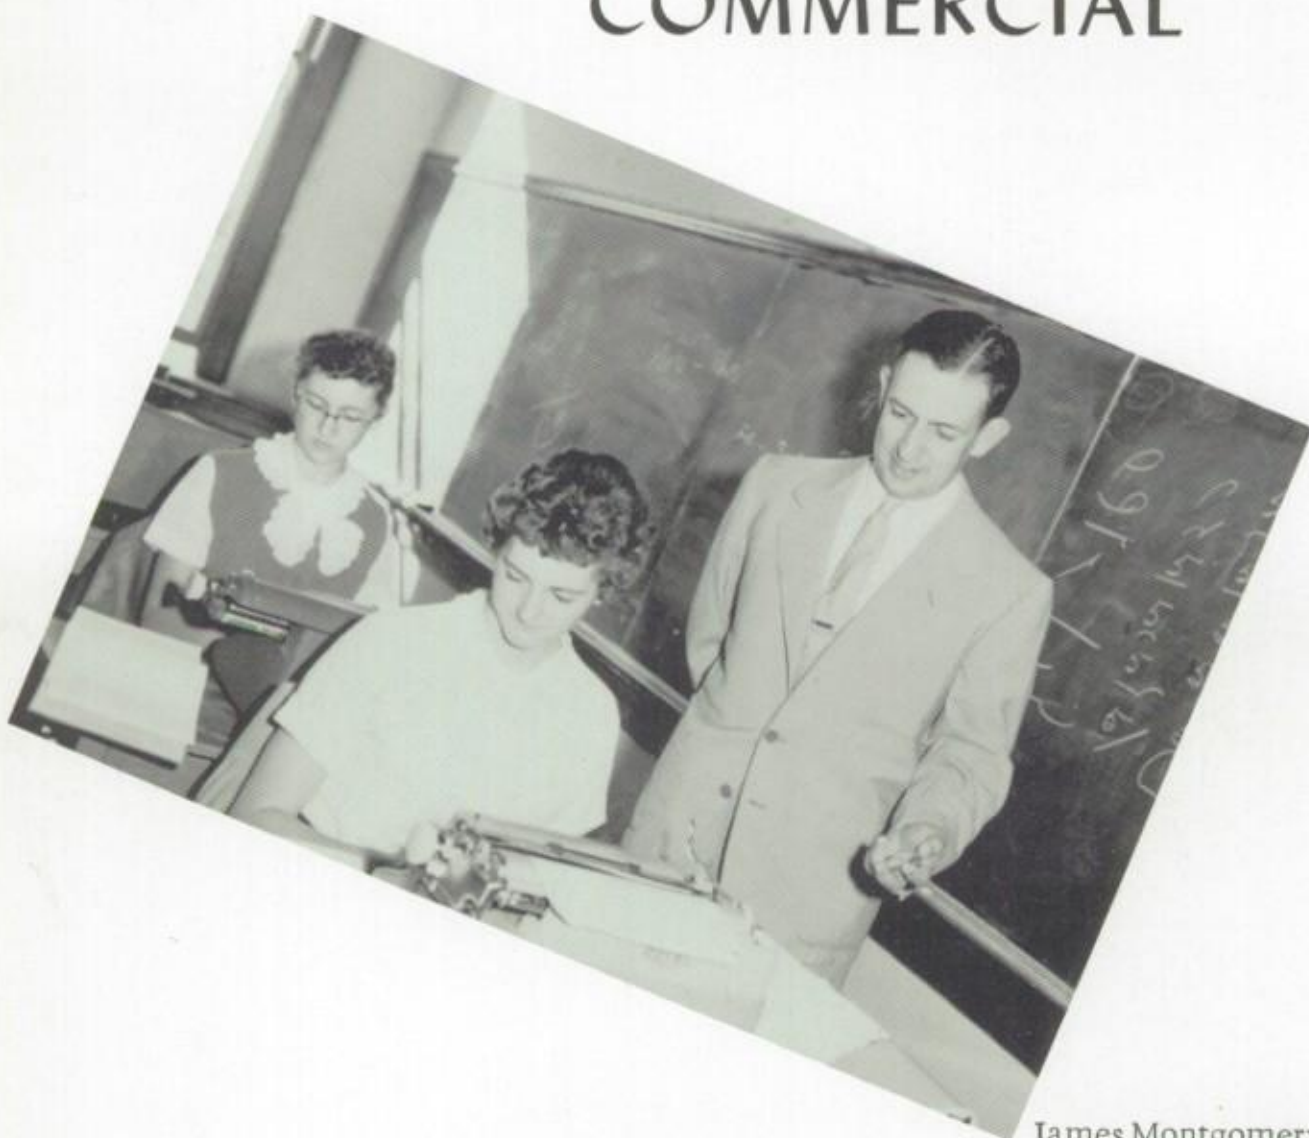

MUSIC

Irvin L. Martin, Bachelor of Music, Butler University and Jordon College of Music, is a graduate of Lebanon High School. He has served as instructor of Instrumental and Vocal Music during his first year at Rossville.

Dale Robertson, a graduate of Western High School and Ball State Teachers College with a B.S. in Education, is completing his fourth year at Rossville. Besides teaching Business Math, General Business, Bookkeeping, Typing, and Physical Education; he sponsors the Student Council.

COMMERCIAL

James Montgomery, B.S., Central Normal College, is a graduate of Danville High School. He is completing his fifteenth year at Rossville as instructor of Typing, Shorthand, and Social Studies.

VOCATIONAL

Maryevelyn Acord, B.S. Ball State Teachers College, graduated from Selma High School. A member of the Rossville faculty for the past thirteen years, she is the Cafeteria Supervisor and instructor of Home Economics. The Block Section and the Junior class have benefited from her sponsorship.

Howard D. Miller, who attended Purdue University and was graduated from Indiana State Teachers College with a B.S. in Special Industrial Arts and Math, is a graduate of Rossville High School. His is a familiar face after thirteen years at Rossville as instructor of Industrial Arts. He also co-sponsors the Junior class.

Keith Addison, a graduate of Milroy High School, attended Hanover College where he received his B.S. He is completing his first year at Rossville as instructor of Social Studies, Government, U.S. History, World History, and World Geography.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Troy Fox, a graduate of Alexandria High School and of Purdue University with a B.S., is completing his thirty-fifth year at Rossville. Besides teaching Social Studies to the eighth grade, he is the playground supervisor and a sponsor of the Freshmen.

Phil Buck, Rossville High School and Indiana University, B.S., has been an instructor at Rossville for five years. His subjects are Physical Education, Health, and Driver Education.

In her teaching of girls' Physical Education and Health, Mrs. Thomas not only stresses the importance of muscular coordination and body functions, but also the importance of good sportsmanship.

Charlene Schornhorst, Vincennes High School and Indiana University, holds a B.S. in Education. During her first year at Rossville, she has taught English and Speech and has directed both the Junior and Senior plays.

Mary Thomas, B.S. in Home Economics, is a graduate of Purdue. During her three years at Rossville, she has not only taught her students the art of correct English usage, but also the importance of muscular co-ordination in Physical Education. She is the seventh grade sponsor.

Emma C. Rex, Mulberry High School, received her A.B. from Wittenberg University. "Compre-hende usted?" is just as familiar to her Spanish students as, "Do you understand?" is to her English students. Her years at Rossville total six.

Alice Rodkey, ever-busy with the library, LARS, Latin Club, and High Spot, also co-sponsors the Sophomores. A graduate of Rossville High School and De Pauw University with an A.B., she teaches Latin and English.

An English teacher's sudden desire for an impromptu theme can = one blank mind + sheets and sheets of wasted paper.

GRADE TEACHERS

SEATED, Left to Right: Frances Cheney, Petersburg High School, gives the basic fundamentals of reading, writing, and arithmetic to the second graders. She received her training at Indiana State Teachers College and has taught at Rossville for six years.

Kathryn Snyder lends her helping hand to the second grade. This was the first year for this Rossville High School graduate, who also attended Central Normal College.

Mabel Catron has completed sixteen years as instructor of the Rossville third grade. Her cheerful disposition has made her a close friend of her pupils. Her advanced training came from Ball State Teachers College.

Xrepha McDaniel has successfully used her special knack of handling and training the fourth grade. Having attended Ball State Teachers College, she has taught at Rossville the past eight years.

Blanche Wenger, B.S., Wilson Teachers College, welcomed the first graders to Rossville Grade School. Her friendliness to the youngsters during the past two years have made her a successful teacher at Rossville.

STANDING, Left to Right: Trussell Wolfe shares the responsibility of teaching the fifth and sixth grades. A graduate of Forest High School, he received training at Ball State Teachers College. His years at Rossville total nineteen.

Leroy Casselman, B.S., Canterbury College, Presides over the sixth grade. He has taught at Rossville for the past six years and has served as director of the Safety Patrol.

THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE AT ROSSVILLE

What is a school building? An alumnus looks at such a structure and recalls the pranks he and his classmates indulged in; a recent grad experiences a twinge of regret that he didn't take advantage of the opportunity offered therein; and a student now enrolled considers only the hard work. Whatever the connotation, school building is not an impersonal word. Packed with memories, a building has the personality equal to the sum total of that of the individuals who have trekked up and down its halls.

These two buildings mark different milestones in the educational progress of Rossville Consolidated School District. The future of these structures in the educational revolution now taking place in Indiana is a matter of conjecture. Perhaps soon these will house for the Consolidation, a junior high school of grades 7-8-9; and a new structure will rise for the high school.

CAFETERIA

This year marks the twelfth year of continuous operation of the High School Cafeteria under the direction of Mrs. Acord. The Grade School Cafeteria opened in September, 1957. Approximately 65,000 meals are served per year over the two counters. As one student said, "That's a lot of dish washing." And speaking of this fine art recalls the first year of operation when Sam Price, Marty Horn, and James Salmon made washing dishes (in a pan) a dignified career.

In spite of spiraling costs cafeteria prices have remained practically the same; at first weekly rates were $1.30.

The letter announcing the Grand Opening in 1948 states, "Hard work and cooperation have provided you with this program. Hard work and cooperation will keep it for you."

Mr. Wolf, in his first year at Rossville, introduced Soil Judging and the team: Keith Koble, Gordon Biery, Lynn Snyder, Terry Leazenby, placed seventh in the District.

This popular sponsor had no sooner moved his family to Rossville until he found himself "up to his neck" in the annual Stock Show. The Chapter, under his leadership, conducted the annual pest hunt, had concession stands at the Poland China and Chester White State Sales, harvested F.F.A.'s fourteen acres of corn, and entertained the fathers at the annual Father and Son Banquet.

The boys have been kept busy in the farm shop; one big project was painting and re-assembling the school's tractor after completely tearing it down.

As the LARS goes to press, three boys: Dick Langston, Roger Frey, and Dick Rodkey have been recommended for Hoosier Farmer degrees.

Mr. Wolf's future plans call for participation in livestock and dairy judging and in parliamentary procedure.

Rossville FFA team praised

By ROBERT W. FERLING

I think it is high time that we all pay tribute to the Rossville Livestock Judging team for their recent 2nd place finish in the National 4-H—FFA Livestock Judging Contest at Chicago.

Clinton county has long been famous for turning out tough judging teams and this year was certainly no exception. I certainly don't want to take anything away from this fine group but it is pleasing to know that some of the toughest competition that the Rossville team encountered was from teams right here in the home county. The county contest that we hold every spring has seen some real competition down through the years.

HIGH SPOT, edited by journalism students and mimeographed by the advanced typing class, is published five times a semester. As the voice of the school, HIGH SPOT adheres to the editorial policy of stressing school spirit, of being strictly impartial and accurate, and of maintaining the proper balance between the trivial and the important. Journalism students earn .5 of a credit each semester.

Last summer the publication paid half of the expenses for Janice Collins, Ledon Hitch, and Harold Archer at the Journalism Institute at Indiana University. This, coupled with new equipment, has improved 1959-60 HIGH SPOT issues.

Dr. R. Lowell Hicks, National Science Foundation Traveling Science Teacher from Michigan State University, will present special lecture-demonstrations during a visit here during the week of November 16-20.

Mr. Hicks' mission is to encourage students to study in the field of science with the help of a station wagon filled with demonstration equipment, much of which he built himself this summer while preparing for these trips to various schools in Indiana. These articles are designed to present scientific principles in a graphic, meaningful manner. Most of the apparatus can be inexpensively duplicated by students and their teachers.

Dr. Hicks is one of 20 high school science teachers carefully selected from a seven-state area and given special training at M.S.U. During the 1959-60 academic year traveling teachers will visit more than 500 high schools in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, and Wisconsin.

Dear Santa,

I have been a good school this year and I want an intercom system. This I not only want, I need it desperately. The wear and tear on my stairs is terrific, and my teachers are weary of relaying messages in the style of the old Greek runners. In fact Mr. Frazee is frazzled. Now I know it's expensive, but if necessary the cost can be divided on a three year basis. And Santa, I wouldn't want you to be responsible for the entire down payment. Of the estimated initial cost Student Council, Sunshine, General Fund, and FFA have promised $50 each. Probably $100 more would make an intercom a reality and this would include a matching radio and phonograph for complete program facilities. Perhaps some other school or community organization will be glad to help you. Santa, please bring us one or whisper in someone's ear for us.

Rossville High School

The Student Council is an organization elected by the students to represent them, to speak for them, and to provide leadership for them in school activities. The Student Council is that group of leaders which ascertains the wishes and desires of the student body and makes them known to the administration and faculty of the school. It generally directs all of the various student campaigns, strives constantly to improve the school, builds school spirit and morale, and coordinates most of the activities of other students organizations.

This year their main project was to initiate a movement to purchase an intercom system to which fund they donated $50. Also, at Christmas, they decorated a tree for school and attended a Christmas dinner at Morris Bryant's.
